DE LA BARRA NOW AT HELM

His Installation as Provisional President Hailed With the Utmost Optimism—Temporary Peace Saves the Mexican Capital From the Horrors of Famine and Pestilence—Developments of the Day.

Mexico City, Feb. 15.—President Madero resigned last night. The resignation of the minister of the interior, Rafael Hernandez, immediately followed.

Francisco de la Barra, the peace-maker of the republic, is to be created provisional president with the consent of General Diaz. Senor de la Barra was the head of the temporary government after the banishment of Porfirio Diaz.

The news of the resignations of Madero and Hernandez was given out at the British legation shortly after 7 p. m. De la Barra had taken refuge at the legation on Thursday after Madero angrily spurned his offer to mediate.

It is taken as a fact that the British minister, Francis Stronge, used his influence to end the civil war. The envoy of Great Britain had spoken his mind plainly to Madero and to Lescarain, the foreign minister, on several occasions. It is said that the British minister used the strongest possible arguments to induce Madero to retire from an impossible position, and that the legation insisted on De la Barra as provisional president. Despite the optimistic attitude of the government, it had become certain that Madero would be obliged to retire. Verified reports from Puebla, the second city of Mexico, from the north and from many large towns, made it certain that the entire country was going over to the revolution.

Persons arriving here from Puebla reported that Colonel Luis G. Pradillo, one of the most influential officers of the federal army, declared for Diaz on Thursday and took possession of the city without a shot being fired. Pradillo's 800 soldiers and the populace cheered Diaz's name.

Throughout the state of Puebla there was a peaceable revolt, the garrisons seconding Colonel Pradillo's action enthusiastically. The populace acclaimed Colonel Pradillo and selected him as military governor. Pradillo, with 4,000 troops, made up of the commands of General Francisco Pradillo, his brother; of Carlos Martinez and of Gaudemin de la Llave, is maintaining perfect order.

In the provinces Madero's cause was lost after the second or third day of his repulses by Diaz. Federal commanders who had started to reinforce the government troops here halted to await developments. Such commanders as threw in their lot with Madero and came to the capital were unable to make their troops fight against Diaz. These reinforcements were impotent. Hundreds deserted to Diaz's standard. Hundreds more refused to fight.

Much of the truth was disclosed after the president's resignation. The backbone of the government was General Huerta and 2,000 of his troops. These have been decimated by the terrible accuracy of Diaz's artillerymen and machine guns in this city. The government soldiers came to the point where they realized that they had nothing to expect but death.

HAILED WITH DELIGHT

News of the Resignation of Madero as President of Mexico.

Washington, Feb. 15.—The news that Francisco Madero has resigned the presidency of Mexico and that Francisco de la Barra is to be the provisional president pending another election was joyfully received in Washington and lifted a great burden of anxiety from the authorities of the government. The outcome of the Diaz revolution in Mexico was almost too good to be true.

While the state department had not at a late hour received official confirmation of reports of Madero's resignation from Ambassador Wilson, officials of the department found no reason to doubt the truth of the report.

It was pointed out, though, that however desirable the new arrangement in Mexico City may be as relief from the intolerable state of affairs of the last week, it can not alter the policy of the United States with respect to Mexico. The one great consideration so far as the Washington administration is concerned has been and will continue to be the protection of American life and property within that country.

EFFORT TO PASS OVER VETO

LITERACY TEST A MERE FALLACY

Taft's Reason For Vetoing the Immigration B.II.

UPHOLDS SECRETARY NAGEL

President Disapproves Measure Solely Because of the Provision Which Would Lock the Doors of the United States Against the Alien Who Could Not Read Some Language or Dialect.

Washington, Feb. 15.—President Taft vetoed the immigration bill on the ground that the illiteracy test prescribed would not prove satisfactory and would be objectionable. Senator Lodge, who has charge of the measure, announced that an effort would be made to pass it over the veto.

In a short message, which was accompanied by a letter from Secretary Nagel, the president said in explanation of his refusal to sign the measure: "I do this with great reluctance. The bill contains many valuable amendments to the present immigration law which will insure greater certainty in excluding undesirable immigrants. But I can not make up my mind to sign a bill which in its chief provision violates a principle that ought in my opinion to be upheld in dealing with our immigration. I refer to the literacy test."

The immigration legislation with the illiteracy test has been urged chiefly by the American Federation of Labor. The veto message was accompanied by a letter to the president from Secretary Nagel denouncing the literacy test as a radical provision "based upon a fallacy in undertaking to apply a test which is not calculated to reach the truth and to find relief from a danger which really does not exist." The president adopted the secretary's position.

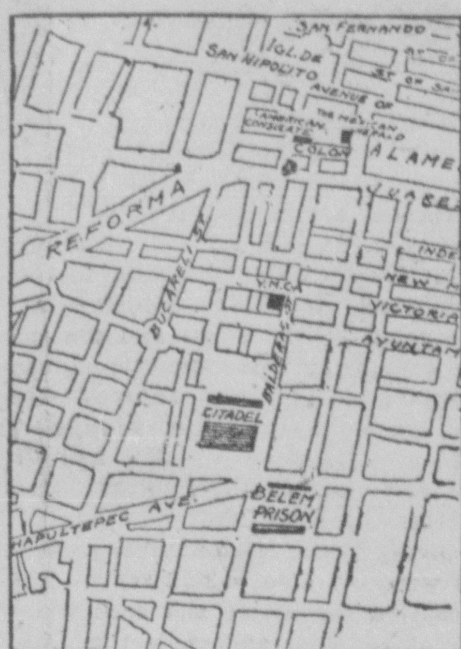

Senate and house leaders lost no time in arranging for an effort to override the veto. As soon as the message was read Senators Dillingham and Simmons and Representative Burnett, leading the congressional supporters of the measure, made arrangements to take it up in the senate on Monday and in the house Tuesday. With Senator Lodge they were confident that the bill would be passed easily in both houses by the necessary two-thirds vote.

Strike Order Is Held Up

New York, Feb. 15.—The orders for the strike of the firemen on the eastern railroads were drawn up and copies printed in readiness to be sent to the different divisions. It was originally intended to start the strike at midnight of Sunday, but a delay has been decided upon until conferences are concluded. Judge Martin A. Knapp, with D. W. W. Hanger, acting United States labor commissioner, is now here making a final attempt to settle by mediation the points in dispute.

UPPER HOUSE HONORS MEMORY

Senate Devotes Day to Ceremonies Commemorative of His Life.

Washington, Feb. 15.—The senate devoted today's session to ceremonies commemorative of the life, character and public works of the late Vice President James S. Sherman of New York. The ceremonies were the most impressive ever held in the senate. President Taft, the members of the cabinet, the speaker, the members of the house of representatives, the chief justice and associate justices of the supreme court, the ambassadors and ministers to the United States and other important dignitaries were present. Speeches were delivered by Senators Root of New York, Martin of Virginia, Gallinger of New Hampshire, Thornton of Louisiana, Lodge of Massachusetts, Kern of Indiana, LaFollette of Wisconsin, Williams of Mississippi, Curtis of Kansas, Cummins of Iowa, Oliver of Pennsylvania and O'Gorman of New York, Speaker Clark and President Taft.

The members of the late Vice President Sherman's family attended the exercises, as did many of his friends in New York. President-elect Wilson and ex-President Roosevelt were invited, but were not present.

Bill O. K'd by Cox Passes House.

Columbus, O., Feb. 15.—Representative George M. Morris of Fairfield county, in asking for the passage of his bill relating to the commitment of minors to public institutions, on the floor of the house said Governor Cox had told him he hoped the measure would become law. It was passed readily and now goes to the senate.

Arrest Clerk For Alleged Shortage.

Steubenville, O., Feb. 15.—A. E. Pearman, clerk of the school board at Rayland, this county, is under arrest at Huntington, Ind. He is wanted for the alleged embezzlement of $240 of the funds of the Rayland school board that was due Martins Ferry high school.

Indicted For Alleged Embezzlement of Bank's Funds.

SURRENDERS WITHOUT A WORD

Accused a Brother of the Superintendent of the State Department of Banks and Banking—Charges Grow Out of Shortage in a Columbus Bank's Cash Balance the Day It Failed.

Columbus, O., Feb. 15.—Clem Baxter of Lima, O., an examiner in the state department of banks and banking, of which his brother, F. E. Baxter, is superintendent, arrived in Columbus to surrender to an indictment charging embezzlement of $3,040 from the Columbus Savings and Trust company, which failed a year ago. Between the time the bank closed at 3 p. m. and midnight, when state examiners completed their examination, the shortage developed in the cash balance. When it was called to the attention of bank attaches, they made a vigorous protest of innocence.

George J. Magly, secretary of the Teutonia Building and Loan company of Columbus, who recently confessed to a $24,000 shortage, was indicted on charges of embezzlement and making false reports.

Mr. Baxter would give out no statement. The examiners signed a statement that the cash found was $3,040 less than the books called for, but Treasurer W. H. Backhus of the bank refused to sign this, it is said. Neither of the tellers in whose chests the shortage was found was requested subsequently to replace the money, although they were under bond, and it is said it was not reported to the state banking department.

It is declared that the morning after the cash had been counted Mr. Backhus had one of the examiners shadowed. This one subsequently purchased an automobile, giving a draft in payment. Mr. Backhus sought to learn the details as to the deposit on the account on which the draft had been drawn. He was blocked in this. Subsequently the case was brought to the attention of Attorney General Hogan and Prosecuting Attorney Turner.

FIRMLY REFUSES TO TALK ABOUT IT

Refuses to Answer Questions Regarding Action Brought Against Him.

Berlin, Feb. 15.—John G. A. Leishman, the American ambassador to Germany, absolutely refused to answer any questions in regard to the action brought against him by Raymond, Pinchon & Company, stock brokers, with offices in New York, Paris and London, for $70,010.95 as a balance alleged to be due from stock transactions which aggregated $1,346,599 in a period of 30 days. The ambassador would say nothing beyond "the matter is in the hands of my attorneys, who will file an answer at the proper time."

Will Tell Grand Jury What They Know About Deals.

Charleston, W. Va., Feb. 15.—Every member of the West Virginia legislature, except those against whom indictments have been returned, together with many other well-known persons, has been summoned to appear before the special grand jury in the Kanawha county intermediate court and tell what they know about the alleged purchase of votes for United States senator and money alleged to have been spent for the passage or defeat of legislation.

Six members of the legislature were indicted, seven indictments in all being returned. State Senator B. A. Smith and Delegates David Hill, H. F. Asbury, U. S. G. Rhodes and Rath Duff were indicted, charged with feloniously receiving bribes in connection with their vote for United States Senator Clarence W. Watson. Later a second indictment was returned against Delegate Rhodes for offering a $2,000 bribe to Delegate J. M. Smith of Tyler county. An indictment also was returned against Delegate George S. Van Meter, charged with accepting a gift of money on Feb. 11.

WOULD MAKE GRAVEYARD A MUSEUM OF ART.

Chicago Feb. 15.—Mrs. Ella Wood Dean, the author and horsewoman, is posing for her tombstone. Mrs. Dean's tombstone will be emblematic and not religious, and is a part of a movement started by her to remove the element of horror from the graveyards and placing the tombstone industry in the hands of artists instead of quarry workers. It is the purpose of the movement to change the graveyard into a museum of art. Flowers and crosses, also terrifying figures, which are now the chief forms of decoration, are to be replaced by statues and statuettes representing artistic conceptions.

Uniform Sidings On B. & O. Railroad

A new plan in the maintenance of way department is about to be formulated on the Ohio division of the B. & O. The plan is to be known as the uniform siding plan and its chief object is greater convenience to the transportation department.

The engineering department of the local division has orders to go ahead with the propagation of the plan and work on it will begin in the spring. The idea of the plan is to place all passing sidetracks with regular intervals of about five miles between them.

Under present conditions sidings are placed in irregular distances some being as close as two miles and others being as far apart as seven miles. The new plan will enable the division to use its side tracks on a more systematic and convenient basis and will greatly facilitate train movements.

It is also aimed to make all passing sidings a uniform length. This length will be so that 100 cars can be accommodated. By next fall it is expected that the entire division will be equipped with uniform sidings. All siding work in the future will be carried out with this plan in view, for instance where the east end of a siding is only two miles away from the next siding east, and the west end of the same siding is seven miles distant from the next siding west, the former end will be cut down three miles and the latter end will be extended until the intervals are of uniform lengths.—Chillicothe Gazette.

Boy Captures White Muskrat

White muskrats are not yet so plentiful in these parts that you see one most every day. But that there are such specimens is now proven, says the Ashville News. Howard Eit, the twelve-year-old son of W. J. Eit, over in Walnut township, caught in a steel trap last Saturday morning a pure white muskrat. No other specimen of this color has been taken this winter by the many trappers who have hundreds of rat hides for sale.

The dead rat was taken to Columbus and is now being mounted by a professional taxidermist and in a few weeks will be on exhibition in one of the Ashville show windows. The Eit's have an offer of $100 for their find and may later accept the price having not yet fully decided as to what they will do with it.

Judge Newby Adopts New Rule

A new rule adopted by Judge Cyrus Newby, of Hillsboro, in not permitting divorced persons to wed within 90 days after the decree is handed down, has created much favorable comment in Highland county, and will eliminate the custom of securing a license to wed another immediately after the decree is handed down.

Judge Newby and many other judges have been annoyed and humiliated many times by the divorced person obtaining a license the same day the decree of divorce is handed down, and marrying again without delay, and it is to break up this practice that the new rule has been adopted.

It is believed that the rule will be adopted by other judges in handing down decrees in divorce suits.

HALF A THOUSAND ATTEND RECEPTION TO NEW MEMBERS

Enjoyable Affair Held at Y. M. C. A. Last Night When New Members Are Made Welcome.

OVER 100 BRIGHT-FACED BOYS AMONG THOSE PRESENT

Many in Building for the First Time, and Boys in Overalls Enjoy Themselves With Others. Big Event a Success in Detail.

Nearly half a thousand men and boys attended the reception given to the new members of the Young Men's Christian Association Friday night, and spent a most enjoyable evening.

It was an affair not soon forgotten, nearly every one entering into the spirit of the event and making the evening one continuous round of pleasure. And none enjoyed the evening more than the youngsters who came in blue overalls, and for the first time in their lives were parties to a reception.

Owing to the large number present all were not able to find seats. The reception committee met each member at the door and made them feel at home immediately, and pinning the admission cards to the lapel of every one so that every member could tell at a glance who the other member was.

The lobby was attractively arranged, and a cheerful wood-fire burned on the hearthstone. Bouquets of beautiful carnations contributed by the Buck Green Houses, decorated the outer office of the secretary.

Old and young mingled together in social chat until the gym was thrown open, and then most of those who entered the gym found seats, and one striking feature of the evening was over 100 boys seated in a row about the auditorium, all bright faced youngsters—the men of tomorrow.

Excellent music was furnished by Johnson's Orchestra, and this feature added much to the enjoyment of the evening and was greatly appreciated by all who heard it. Mr. Walter Springer rendered a number of beautiful solos.

Physical Director McClung and a corps of assistants amused the crowd in the gym during a large part of the evening, and the work given showed splendid progress made by many pupils.

The large rooms on the second floor, attractively decorated with the national colors, were utilized for serving the refreshments, which consisted of sandwiches, pickles and coffee, and over 400 of those present visited the dining rooms during the evening, and were served by the Star Restaurant caterers.

After mingling together for an hour after refreshments were served, and watching the performances in the gym, the large crowd departed, and it was nearly eleven o'clock before the building was closed for the night. The only addresses made during the evening were short talks by President Henry Brownell and General Secretary Ray F. Zaner.

That the reception was a complete success was the general verdict of all, and the new members were pleased with their royal welcome in the Association.

In all more than 415 new members have been added during the past ten

Freak Pitcher Signs Contract

Bernard Brown of Yellow Springs, well known to local baseball fans, has signed a contract to twirl for the Quincy, Ill., team in the Three I league during the coming summer, according to announcement made recently. During the latter part of last season Brown pitched for Quincy and made a good impression with the fans. He is a fair batter and a speedy base runner.

Brown pitched for Hyde's Specials of Mechanicsburg for two seasons. Previous to that time he was the star twirler on the Antioch College team. Toward the close of last season he pitched against the All-Professionals at Washington park, Springfield. Part of the time he would do the twirling with one arm and then shift to the other, being good at putting the ball over the plate with either hand.

While pitching for Hyde's Specials he twirled a game against the Cincinnati Reds at the close of the season of 1911 and for the first six innings did not allow a single Redleg to reach the home plate.—Xenia Gazette.

Angry Woman Uses Shotgun

"Oh woodman spare that tree" cried Mrs. Kate Haley, a neighbor of G. C. Hanna of the Yellow Springs pike near Cedarville, when Hanna started to wield the ax, says the Xenia Republican. Miss Haley claims that the tree was on her land. Mr. Hanna claims that it is not and expressed his intention to cut. "Only over my dead body" said Miss Haley or words to that effect. Then she got a revolver to emphasize her argument Hanna armed himself with a shot gun and retaliated she claims by chasing her away with the ax. She marched right through the streets of Cedarville with the gun in her hand and swore out a warrant against Hanna for assault with intent to kill. Hanna was arrested by Deputy Joseph Kennon and placed under $110 bond.

Taylor-Morgan Case Comes Up

In Common Pleas court Friday afternoon the case of Sadie Taylor against Ann Morgan was taken up, and after a jury was secured, court adjourned until Monday morning, when the case will be resumed.

Friday the defendant offered to confess judgment in favor of the plaintiff for the sum of $3.55 and costs of the suit. This offer was refused by the plaintiff.

The case was started in Justice Craig's court, where suit was brought for $168.55 for alleged breach of contract, and at that time judgment in the sum of $125 was awarded, after which the case was carried to the Common Pleas court. Rankin and Rankin represent the plaintiff and W. B. Rodgers is counsel for the defendant.

IN SOCIETY

Mrs. R. C. Tefft entertained her S. S. class of young men with a masquerade valentine party Friday eve. The house was beautifully decorated with red hearts. Each boy brought a girl friend and the evening was spent in games and music. Walter Karney and Jennie Davis had the honor of being the best masked. Ralph Householder and Naomi Rowan the second best. Warren Schleich looked ferocious with his animal face. Clyde Davis made a stunning colored dude, and Ralph Schleich a typical clown. Henry Shoop the "Rat doctor" created quite a sensation. Clifford Householder, a Pike Co., Mo., cowboy was well represented, and Robert Tompson made a cute little clown. Mrs. Will Ellison assisted Mrs. Tefft in making the evening the enjoyment it was. Dainty refreshments were served by Mr. Ellison and Mr. Tefft in masked attire. At a late hour the party was broken up, and the boys each expressed their appreciation to their teachers for the joyous evening. Miss Dorothy Wright of Frankfort, was an out-of-town guest.

Vieng with many charming affairs for which society has been indebted to the Penns' hospitality in the past were two beautiful valentine parties Friday afternoon and evening.

In the afternoon Mrs. Eva Penn and Mrs. Ralph Penn entertained 40 of the younger matrons and girls and in the evening, Mr. Ralph Penn received with the two hostesses, their guests, including 60 men and women.

The elegant home, with its large connecting rooms thrown together, radiant with winter sunshine in the afternoon and brilliantly flooded with artificial light at night, made perfect background for the assemblage of guests, who found both affairs radiating hospitality and pleasure.

In tune with St. Valentine's days, hearts and flowers played their part in the artistic decoration, which gave added embellishment to the handsome rooms. The hostesses received their guests in the reception hall with a fantastic arrangement of crimson hearts festooned overhead.

The afternoon brought out a variety of smart reception costumes and the evening an array of brilliant evening gowns, their bright colors accentuated by the sombre attire of their escorts.

Mrs. Penn, always the most gracious of hostesses, received in a handsome white serge gown, with garniture of Irish lace satin and ball fringe.

Mrs. Ralph Penn was looking lovely in a Frenchy gown of blue charmeuse, draped over pink satin, trimmed with quantities of lace, the color scheme particularly becoming to her blonde type.

Assisting in the hospitalities were Mrs. Walter W. Hamilton in pink satin, Mrs. D. H. Van Winkle in heliotrope charmeuse and little Miss Kathleen Penn, captivating assistant in her white frock, and quite the most popular young lady in the house during her brief appearance.

A delicious collation was served and the favor cards were valentine suggestions.

Miss Fite, of Georgetown, O., was an out-of-town guest.

The first division of Mrs. D. H. Rowe's Sunday school class entertained the class in delightful fashion in the Sunday school room of Grace church Friday evening.

The special feature of the evening was a musical contest. Mrs. Hugh Weir and Miss Annetta Stafford played a concert program during the evening, and refreshments were served.

Miss Ada Woodward entertained at an informal little chafing dish supper Friday night Misses Mary Weaver, Dorothy Sager, Messrs. Bliss Casey and Jack DeWitt.

The Friday night club dance was enjoyed beyond the ordinary, with an extra supply of men on hand. Walter Head, of Greenfield played the piano, with Mr. Kneisley saxophone and Mr. Ramsey, drums, and the music was splendid.

Train Orders By Telephone

Another improvement of more than ordinary interest is planned for the main line of the B. & O. S. W. and which may be later adopted on the Midland division which passes through this city, and is nothing less than installing the telephone to supplant the telegraph in sending train orders.

While the service will be installed, it is claimed the road will still retain the telegraph to use in case the phone should not work.

On a number of roads where the improved service has been installed, it has proven much more satisfactory than the more tedious system of telegraphs.

Never Yet Has Succeeded

Never yet has any man succeeded in elevating himself to a very great height by constantly tugging at his own boot straps.

This, to many, attractive plan of getting higher up in the world, however, like a great many of the sure thing, get rich quick schemes, appeals strongly to a large number of men. Some men are in fact unable to control the inclination to "fall for" the old old game.

Of course the effort is not always literally directed to the boot straps—that is only a figure of speech. The same old principle is clothed in many disguises, nearly all of which are attractive to the unwary and the inexperienced.

The most successful disguise in which this old plan is clothed to invite seizure, is the one of abusing opponents. Some men in business enter into a campaign of knocking with real enthusiasm and energy, and it is not unusual to see the victims of the erroneous belief, work themselves up to the point where they actually believe they are making real progress.

Every man, no matter what his chosen profession or business in the world may be, must succeed by his own real merit and industry. No amount of thought and work which could be devoted with great good to bettering his own condition will, if diverted to the reprehensible task of complaining about and abusing his competitors, produce dividends.

Even if the efforts to hurt a competitor succeeds for a time—even though through jealousy and envy and bearing false witness, a competitor is injured beyond hope of recovery—the man who has done the damage never profits by the havoc wrought.

No man ever yet traveled very far or very rapidly along the road which leads to real success, over the bruised and mangled bodies of those he has assassinated through a selfish desire to profit.

It is a mistake and men who waver and surrender to the old temptation, attractive though it may be, soon learn to their sorrow that they have done a mean and dishonorable, and, what effects them most, an unprofitable thing.

Poetry For Today

IF WE KNEW.

Could we but draw back the curtains
That surround each other's lives,
See the naked heart and spirit,
Know what spur the action gives,
Often we would find it better,
Purer than we judge we should;
We should love each other better
If we only understood.

Could we judge all deeds by motives,
See the good and bad within,
Often we should love the sinner,
All the while we loathe the sin.
Could we know the powers working
To overthrow integrity,
We should judge each other's errors
With more patient charity.

Ah! We judge each other harshly,
Knowing not life's hidden forces;
Knowing not the fount of action
Is less turbid at its source.
Seeing not amid the evil
All the golden grains of good;
Oh, we'd love each other better
If we only understood.

Marshal Kennon, the terror of all Greene county bootleggers was shot and killed by a blind tiger keeper, the wets and drys were rioting in the streets of Cedarville and the militiamen were hurrying from all parts of the state to the scene of the disorder to quell further violence and prevent the bloodshed momentarily expected. The marshal denies it all, denies he was shot or even half shot, but promises to make it interesting to his friends if they did not stop calling up his house to inquire about the funeral plans.

EMBARRASSING FOR HER.

Who Was It That Got the Under-the-Table Hint?

A Milwaukee man and his wife recently received a call from an old friend whom they had not seen for years. Just before the three sat down to a little supper in the German style, the wife, seizing a favorable opportunity, whispered to her husband:

"We have only three bottles of beer in the house—just enough to go around. Don't ask him to have more."

"Very well," answered the husband, who chanced to be thinking of something else at the time.

Half an hour later the host, to his wife's consternation, asked the guest to take more beer. The invitation was politely declined, but still the host did not desist. A dozen times the caller was urged to drink; a dozen times he firmly refused.

When he had departed the wife took her husband to task. "What on earth made you persist so? Didn't I tell you there were only three bottles? Why did you insist upon his having more beer, more beer, more beer?"

"Mewy!" exclaimed the husband. "I forgot entirely."

"But," continued the wife, "why did you suppose I was kicking you under the table?"

"My dear," blandly replied the husband, "you didn't kick me!"

A Premium On Good Teachers

Last year the Board of Education of Jefferson township, Montgomery county, Ohio, agreed to add $5 per month to the salary of any of its teachers who would attend a normal school during the summer. Out of sixteen teachers in the township, seven took advantage of the offer, thereby increasing their salary $5 per month. This Board of Education instead of paying all its teachers $40 per month, the minimum salary required by law, has a sliding wage scale based on qualification and experience. All teachers who have had no experience receive $50 per month the first year. For the second year they receive $55 per month, providing they have a one-year certificate, or $60 per month, if they have a certificate for two years. For the third year, the salary is $60 per month for those holding a two-year certificate. Two dollars a month is allowed all teachers for janitor service. It is possible by attending a summer normal school to receive a minimum salary of $67 per month in this township.

The results of this plan, as shown by the qualifications and terms of service of the teachers of the township are an interesting study. Of the sixteen teachers employed, thirteen have had at least a high school education, and it is worthy to remark that no inexperienced teacher is now employed unless he or she has completed a four-year high school course. Preference is given to graduates of the township's own high school. Thirteen of the teachers have had the advantage of a normal school training some time in their school experience. Only three teachers are teaching their first term this year. Five of the sixteen teachers were employed to teach in the township for the first time this year. Seven teachers have been in the township schools five years or longer. One teacher has had seventeen years of experience and another has taught thirty-four years, twenty years of which have been spent in the Jefferson township schools.

Microbes Breed Where Air Is Stagnant

Ventilation
Synonym
For Good Health

By
Dr. WOODS HUTCHINSON,
Physician, of New York

ONE of the most important findings of modern science is that the diseases of middle life are the effects of infections in an earlier stage of life. What we generally term a "little, measly, ordinary cold," caught in childhood, often LEAVES GRAVE MARKS upon the heart or blood vessels or kidneys and later in life results in weakness of the heart or in Bright's disease.

The ordinary diseases of childhood, as measles, whooping cough or others, are apt to leave a permanent stamp on our health and contribute to the deficiency of a whole generation. We must therefore ELIMINATE THE CONTAGIOUS DISEASES BY THEIR ROOTS.

AIR IN MOTION IS THE ONLY AIR THAT'S FIT TO BREATHE. THERE IS AN ANTIQUATED SUPERSTITION THAT A DRAFT PRODUCES A COLD. THAT BELIEF IS RIDICULOUS. DRAFT IS NOT ONLY NOT DANGEROUS, BUT IT IS MOST ESSENTIAL TO OUR WELL BEING. IN CHURCHES THERE IS ALWAYS THAT STUFFY ATMOSPHERE, BREEDING MILLIONS OF MICROBES. VENTILATION IS THE UNDERLYING PRINCIPLE OF GOOD HEALTH.

A most encouraging feature of the modern age is that most of the factories are perfectly sanitary and lofty. If the working people could turn the places where they labor into their dwellings they would be better off. But they ought to have BOTH A SANITARY PLACE TO WORK IN AND A SANITARY HOME. Every house should be "killed" at the age of fifty unless it is proved to be absolutely sanitary. The philanthropy of today is the good business of tomorrow.

WAITED 35 YEARS TO WED.

Family Feud Separated Lovers, but Dan Cupid Triumphed.

New York.—Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Sut-phen, bridegroom and bride, sailed from here on a cruise for the West Indies. He is sixty-one, and his wife is fifty-three. Their marriage a few days ago followed an attachment of thirty-five years' standing.

The bride was Miss Mary Richards of Lodgepole, Neb. Mr. Sutphen's father and Miss Richards' father were neighbors in Nebraska when the young folks fell in love.

A feud started between the house of Richards and the house of Sutphen, and all communication between the adjoining ranches was broken off. The lovers were kept apart.

A short time later Alfred Sutphen went to California and then to Australia, where he took a big ranch and became a rich man. Sutphen sold out last summer and returned to Nebraska to visit his old home. He found his early sweetheart still true to him.

CHANG WAS HONEST.

Aged Chinaman Wouldn't Go Home
With $3 of Chin's.

San Francisco.—Chang Pook, eighty-four years old, before sailing for China gave to Attorney John C. Catlin six worn half dollars, wrapped in a piece of faded china silk, which he had received and held in trust for fifty-four years. Catlin is commissioned to find Chin Poo and return to him the money which he gave Chang on the frigate Boston in 1858.

Chang said he and Chin were cabin boys on the Boston, then commanded by Commodore Perry. While the vessel lay at anchor in Boston harbor, Chang had shore leave, and the money was given him by Chin to buy opium.
When he returned Chin had been transferred to another vessel, and Chang never saw him again.

"I can't go back to China with this debt unpaid," said the aged Chinese to Catlin. "You must find Chin and give him the money."

THE RICELESS WEDDING.

Takes Its Place With Sane Fourth and Spug Christmas.

New York.—The firecrackerless Fourth and the "spug" Christmas have been joined in their particular hall of fame by the riceless wedding. The Rev. Dr.
James J. Corrigan, pastor of Our Lady of Sorrows church, Shell road, Corona, N. Y., placed the ban on the practice after he had married Ellen Woods and John Gavin.

They were about to march down the aisle of the church when Father Corrigan told those assembled that he wanted no throwing of rice or old shoes then or as the couple left the church, as the edifice was no place for such a demonstration. He said many complaints had been made to him of brides who had had their eyes injured by rice.

ZUBEIR WAS KING OF THE SUDAN

He Could Have Saved General
Gordon at Khartum.

London.—One of the most picturesque characters in Africa is dead. He was Zubeir Pasha, at one time an immensely wealthy slave trader and virtually a king in the Sudan. General Gordon selected him as the only man capable of holding the territory, and there is little doubt that had Gordon's advice been followed the tragedy of Khartum would not have occurred.

In the last ten years Zubeir had been living at Gell. Zubeir Pasha was one of the remarkable men of the nineteenth century. He was quite a central African Napoleon in his day, and he paid for his large conquests with both an Elba and a St. Helena.

Before Gordon's arrival in the Sudan Zubeir was master of southern Kordofan, the Bara, Wadai and a number of other sultanates, all of which he had conquered. Gordon wanted to have him made governor general of the Sudan, and had his counsel been followed there can be no doubt that the mahdi's revolt would have been crushed at an early period. But in that case there would have been no British Sudan.

England was sufficiently alive to his great influence, however, after the battle of Omdurman, when they brought him from Cairo to help settle the country. He served loyally, and there is nobody who has had anything to do with the Sudanese administration who has not a kind word for the old gentleman. He was treated rather shab-bily, for, although the Egyptian government confiscated millions of pounds' worth of his property, he was only allowed a pension of £2,000 a year. This was not much on which to keep town houses in Khartum and Omdurman, a huge estate at Gell, a harem of some 200 wives and dependents on a proportionate scale.

THE LIMIT REACHED IN THIS LATE DEVICE FOR NEEDS OF HUMAN

THIS INVENTION PUTS EDISON IN THE SHADE

Eating and Drinking Are Possible
Through the Gustograph.

South Norwalk, Conn., Feb. 15.—

Edison is placed in the passe class and eating and drinking are taken from the luxuries list and placed on the commonplace through a wonderful invention made public by George H. Hadley of this place. The invention is a new gustograph which reproduces on phonographic records all the gastronomical sensations and results which can be reproduced at will by simply affixing the gastronomical transmitter to the palate and starting the record. The gustograph, according to the inventor, will reproduce the most ample banquet from soup to nuts on a single record, and the meal can be eaten a thousand times over, while in a similar way a "soupe" can be reproduced and enjoyed at will without a fractional part of the original cost. Also if a person does not take his own sensations while in a state of inebriation, all he has to do is to invest in another's record.

Another variety will be cheap under these conditions and the United States law putting a ban on the absinthe and its glorious effects will be nil. For one such treat can be fed to the entire country.

The details of the gustograph have not been made public as yet, but Mr.
Hadley states that the sensation recorder is affixed to the palate and an electric wire transmits all the sensations to the delicate cylinder on which the same is recorded. While the senses that are most affected are merely imagination, the inventor is yet at sea as to whether the effects on the human system will be the same as the primitive and original way of eating or drinking. He is inclined, however, to think that there will be little difference.

Reign of Anarchy Now Believed Over

The provisional administration of De la Barra and the government which may succeed him will be satisfactory to the United States in exactly the same degree that it succeeds in giving proper protection to American interests in Mexico.

The installation of De la Barra as provisional president of Mexico is anticipated with the utmost optimism and strong belief that it will mean better things in Mexico in the near future, to say nothing of putting an end to the frightful conflict which has gone on ever since Sunday.

It is believed the selection of De la Barra to resume the task he laid down when President Madero was inaugurated is an outcome that would have been the result of the triumph of either Madero or Diaz. During his term as provisional president between Porfirio Diaz and Madero, De la Barra had the hearty support of all factions and elements in the military and civil population of Mexico. In fact Francisco Madero and his relatives were the only people in all Mexico with whom De la Barra had the slightest friction. He left office with a record of splendid achievement and was at that time accredited with having done a great work in bringing Mexico safely through a dangerous period of revolution.

It is recalled that during De la Bar-ra's former term as provisional president of Mexico he succeeded in restoring order practically throughout all Mexico. Americans who were in Mexico City during De la Barra's term of office speak of his provisional administration in highest praise.

Madero Quits City.
Mexico City, Feb. 15.—It is confidentially announced that Madero has fled the city. It was learned that he arranged for his flight a day in advance, and his resignation was placed in the hands of the British ambassador to be announced when he was safely out of the city. Madero and his family will board a foreign warship.

Jury Finds Members of Bathtub Trust Guilty as Charged.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 15.—The jury in the criminal trial of the members of the alleged bathtub trust found the defendants and individuals guilty as charged.

The charge upon which they were tried was violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. It was alleged that through an agreement between a majority of the manufacturers and nearly all the 400 jobbers in this country a price list was agreed on which fixed prices absolutely in every section of the country.

The defendants number among them some of the most prominent men in Pittsburgh and other cities of the east. Some of them went during the argument of Attorney Bodman when he pictured to the jury the disgrace that would fall on the defendants should they be convicted. The government attorneys confined their efforts solely to the fact.

Resignation Of Madero Is Denied

Special to Herald.

New York, Feb. 15th.—Late news dispatches received here from Mexico state that Francisco Madero announces that he will not resign the presidency of Mexico unless the National Senate dictate such a course.

The federal forces this morning resumed the attack on the Diaz forces which are as yet strongly entrenched in the arsenal building.

Early morning news dispatches that Madero had agreed to resign are contradicted flatly by the later dispatches from the zone of trouble.

Authentic information as to the exact conditions in the war rent city of Mexico are difficult to obtain, owing to the vicious uncivilized manner in which the fighting is being conducted.

Foreign nations are urging with more vigor than ever before that some agreement be reached which will protect at least the lives of the foreigners in Mexico City.

The American ambassador is, as formerly, the leader of the foreigners demanding protection.

LATER

Special to Herald.

Mexico City, Feb. 15.—The National Senate has started to National Palace with the purpose, rumor says, to demand the resignation of Madero as president.

Three Out Of Twenty-Eight

Only three persons out of the 28 who tried the last teachers' examination in the county succeeded in attaining the required average and securing certificates to teach.

The reason for so many failures is because of the exceedingly difficult list of questions.

Those who passed are: Oliver Wood, Lyndon and Albert Vannorsdall, Jeffersonville, both for one year and Harry Hiser, Milledgeville, three years.

Supt. Casey Is Reappointed

Supt. Frank Casey, who has successfully superintended the Fayette County Infirmary for the past six years, has been reappointed by the Board of County Commissioners, for a term of one year, beginning the first of next month. Mrs. Casey was also reappointed matron of the institution.

The appointment was made after the commissioners had visited the infirmary and made a careful inspection of the building and farm.

School House Burns to Ground

Fire starting from a red hot cinder which fell from the open door of a stove started a blaze which completely destroyed the Woodside school house just over the line in Clinton county, Thursday night.

The building was doomed before the first was discovered, and none of the equipment or children's books were rescued from the fire. The structure was built of brick, and it will be replaced during the coming summer.

Meanwhile school will probably be held in the township house at that point. Carelessness upon the part of the janitor is said to have caused the fire.

THE RIVALS

What Rules the World.

Many years ago John Brougham, Lester Wallace, Artemus Ward and others used to meet after the play at Windhurst's, in Park row, in New York. One night the question, "What rules the world?" arose, and various opinions were expressed. William Ross Wallace, who was present, retired before long and some time later called Thomas J. Leigh from the room and handed to him a poem which he had just written. Mr. Leigh read it aloud to the company, and Mr. Brougham made a happy little speech of acknowledgment. The thing was entitled "What Rules the World," and the first stanza ran:

They say that man is mighty,
He governs land and sea,
He wields a mighty scepter
O'er lesser powers that be,
But a mightier power and stronger
Man from his throne has hurled,
And the hand that rocks the cradle
Is the hand that rules the world.

Punishment For a Thief.

"Richard, by the grace of God, king of England. * * * If any one cast any reproach or bad word against another or invoke God's malediction on him let him for every offense pay an ounce of silver. Let a convicted thief be shorn like a prizefighter, after which let boiling pitch be poured on his head and a feather pillow be shaken over it so as to make him a laughing stock. Then let him be put ashore at the first land where the ships touch. Witness myself at Chinon." These are two of the ordinances of Chiron quoted by Miss Maude M. Holbach in "In the Foot steps of Richard Coeur de Lion."

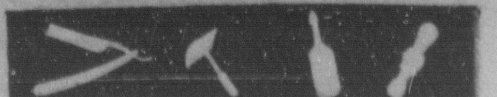

NOT DEAD; JUST HUNGRY.

"I Want Breakfast," Says "Corpse" to Busy Undertaker.

Corning, N. Y.—As an undertaker was preparing to embalm his body Harry Brigham, a long time resident of Ulysses, Pa., shook off his shroud, straightened up in bed and asked for breakfast.

After eating Brigham said he felt better than he had in several days.

Monster Burr Oak Log Weighs 20,000 Pounds

Is Largest Ever Received in This City, Measures 80 Inches at Largest End, and Tree From Which It Came Produced Good Sixteen Logs—Will Be Reduced to Lumber by Willis Saw Mill.

Think of it! One tree containing 16 large logs, the first of which is 12 feet in length and when sawed will contain enough lumber to build a solid board fence one inch thick, five feet high and over 400 feet in length. The largest log ever shipped to this city arrived this week and was unloaded Friday at the Willis lumber mill, where it will soon be worked up into quartered oak for interior finishing. The log at the large end is just six feet and eight inches, and at the other end is 55 inches, and weighs approximately 20,000 pounds. This huge section of a giant of the forest was purchased by the Willis Lumber Company from Fife and Lane of Wilmington, and is the largest log ever shipped from that county. The huge tree stood on the Fitzhugh farm some five miles from Wilmington, and was a burr oak, solid as a rock from bottom to top.

It required two men a half day to fell the tree, and to move the monster log cut from the butt of the tree, required ten horses. It was placed upon a flat car at Wilmington and in company with two of its mates made a car load of over 60,000 lbs. The second log contained that portion of the tree where two huge trunks formed from the main trunk, and the third log was from one of the great branches or trunks. The three logs contain fully 4000 feet of lumber.

Without question it was the largest tree in Clinton county from which the logs were taken, and the main log is by far the largest oak log that has ever been received here, and the largest diameter exceeds that of any other log of any kind that has ever been shipped here.

After the main log had been unloaded from the car at the Willis mill yards, it was found that owing to the enormous weight of the big stick of timber there was danger of breaking the machinery, and it will be necessary to split the log before the saw touches it.

HERE'S A TITLE FOR $125.

German Olympic Committee Offers it to All Comers. Berlin.—People wanting a German title can get a new one for $125. The committee on the Olympic games in appealing for funds states that these games in Germany must be an example of the German power of organization. "We must show the visitors," says a statement, "who will flock to Germany our fatherland in its beauty, industrial, economic and military might, but above all the feats of our athletic youth must bear witness to the inexhaustible springs of our national strength and vigor."

With a view to encouraging donations the committee offers the title of "Promoter of the German Imperial Committee of Olympic Games" at the price aforesaid.

Geography of Blushing. "Dogs blush," said a hunter. "Look at Carlo. I'll frighten him, and you'll see him blush plainly. Dogs blush in the tail."

He pretended that he was going to whip his hunting dog, and the animal showed the whites of its eyes in fright, while the skin of its white tail was, sure enough, suffused with blood. The tail blushed vividly.

"Horses," continued the huntsman, "blush in the ears, especially in the left ear. Cows and sheep blush just above the fetlock. Watch that spot on a cow. When she blushes there it's a sign she's nervous. Move the milk pail then, for she is likely to kick it over."

"Cats and mice and lions and tigers blush at the roots of their antennae, or whiskers."—New York Tribune.

SAHARA AS FACTORY CENTER.

Plan to Use Sun's Heat For Power Practicable, Says J. Astley Cooper. London.—Utilization of the Sahara desert as a center of industrial production is the suggestion made by J. Astley Cooper.

It had almost been accepted as a truism, he says, that our coal supplies were giving out, but the Sahara desert received an amount of solar heat every day equivalent to that produced by 6,000,000,000 tons of coal.

In this arid region, with the great supplies of products available from the wonderful forest lands nearer to the coast and the country traversed by a network of railways, thoughtful scientific men say that if some economical method could be found to use this lost solar energy—such, for instance, as the scheme which was on trial near Cairo—there was no reason why the dreams should not be realized of those who saw great districts of the world, now arid and useless on account of the intense heat, given up to the factories of the future. These would be of enormous extent, with glass chambers instead of chimneys and reflectors instead of furnaces, all designed to receive and transmit the daily gift of the sun's heat.

First Sickness at 111.

Denver.—"To think of being sick for the first time—and at my time of life!" Mrs. Mary Foley, aged 111 years, one of the oldest of living people, thinks it is strange that she should be ill. Never since she can remember was she ever forced to take to her bed because of sickness, but she is suffering from heart trouble, and her doctor fears the worst.

She came to this country from County Kerry, Ireland, forty years ago. She has reared six children, but all are dead now excepting John, her "baby"—a teamster, sixty-nine years old.

TO HATCH MEN LIKE CHICKS.

Scientist Says Baby Factories Will Take the Place of Parents.

Boston.—That it is possible to create human life by chemical means and that a baby factory is not out of the question for the distant future is asserted by Dr. Martin Kellogg Schermerhorn of the department of philosophy in Harvard. While speaking before the Metropolitan club he said:

"Life is not confined to the animal and plant world. The whole universe is alive, and all that lives is conscious. 'Animals are conscious and gifted with the power of thought and imagination. 'Plants are conscious, and Ruskin and Goethe agree they are capable of exercising strategy and forethought. Even Darwin said plants were sensitive, and hence he must have believed they were conscious."

"It is obvious that the evolution from so called matter to human life is possible. The chemist of the future will labor so that men shall be made in baby factories as chickens are hatched in incubators."

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Hardening of the Arteries.

The activity of the brain is determined largely by its blood supply, and when the arteries that supply it are hardened by the deposit of mineral matter it must become sluggish. The skin of the laborer early becomes hard, dry and wrinkled because of the more rapid deposit of mineral matter. The sedentary worker hardens soon, comparatively, because his circulation is sluggish. Moderate exercise to keep the circulation in normal flow, olive or peanut oil to lubricate and soften the tissues, are the natural means of avoiding premature ossification.

FOR SALE INCUBATORS.

The Queen Incubator has made a record of 100 per cent. hatches, that has never been surpassed by any other make. It is so easy run that a novice can get good hatches by simply following the directions that come with the machine. Can be seen at P. C. Harlow's, local agent, Leesburg avenue. 25 ct

The Theaters

SOUTHERN THEATER.

Columbus, O.

The Paul J. Rainey African Hunt Pictures represent the absolute high tide in the gradual rise of the moving picture idea of entertainment and are shown as the result of a year of effort and an expenditure of a quarter of a million dollars. An expedition of over 350 men spent a year in the depths of the African jungle, and braved death from fever and wild beasts, in order that this wonderful entertainment might be presented in Columbus. They will be seen for eight days at the Southern theater, February 16 to 23 inclusive. Matinee daily. Mr. Rainey, who is a millionaire sportsman from Cleveland, Ohio, undertook his big game hunt at first merely from the point of sport, but he was the first African big game hunter to provide the wonderful scenes he saw, and the strange experiences he passed through should be preserved for the delectation of the American public, through the medium of the motion pictures, colored slide and lecturer. Accompanying his expedition was a large corps of expert photographers and motion picture camera operators, and whenever there was a hunt to be undertaken, or a dangerous trip into the jungles, these intrepid men of the camera and film were in the forefront.

The Rainey expedition consisted of 30 white men, 300 black men, 135 camels, 40 horses, 60 dogs, 54 oxen and 150 sheep on the hoof. Mr. Rainey, Prof. Heller of the Smithsonian Institute, and others, and their personal retinues, met Mr. Allen Black of Australia, and Mr. Augustus Outram of the Transvaal, at Port Said, and while traveling to Mombassa completed their plans. Dr. William Johnston was added as physician and surgeon, and Mr. John C. Hemment as chief of staff of photographers. At Mombassa the complete Safari, or hunting journey was arranged. Black giants of the Wah-kembahs, lithe and agile Swahelis, thin and wiry Kavendas and Khar-kus, the courageous inky Massai and smart Somalis, all African tribesmen noted for their endurance and other worthy qualities, accompanied the expedition, some as employees and carriers, and the remainder for love of the sport.

Mr. Rainey's expedition cost him over $250,000, and the time consumed was about one year.

Seats for this engagement can be secured by writing the box office at the Southern theater. All mail orders will receive prompt and careful attention.

PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA.

Days in advance of the actual sale central Ohio has indicated a clear perception of the importance of the concert of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra under Josef Stransky and Marie Rappold, prima donna soprano of the Metropolitan Opera House Company.

Large delegations are already assured from Lancaster, Delaware, Westerville, Marysville, Granville and other points within a radius of fifty miles.

Columbus is one of three cities in Ohio where the Philharmonic Orchestra plays this year. Stransky the director of the orchestra, is one of the most talked of leaders in this country, a young Bohemian, 36 years of age. His work has placed him side by side with Nikish and Dr. Muck and others of international reputation.

Madam Rappold for the last several years has been one of the leading prima donnas of the New York Opera Company. She had distinguished herself both in the Wagnerian roles and the more florid parts of the Italian school. In sacred music she has also distinguished herself and she will include in her Columbus program, "Ave Marie" from Max Bruch's "The Cross of Fire." She will also sing "Sing Elsa's Dream" from Lohengrin and "Aria" from Tannhauser.

The big number for the orchestra will be Tschalkowsky's Wonderful Fifth Symphony. The combination afforded of this program is regarded by musical critics as the most remarkable given in this part of the country this year and equal to anything in the concert line in New York, Boston or Chicago.

Seats range from fifty cents to two dollars.

Mail orders received by T. T. Frankenberg at McClelland's Book Store will receive the same attention as that accorded persons standing in line.

Corn Show And Institute Now Closed

Immense Crowds and Great Enthusiasm to the End--Corn and Cakes Bring Big Prices in the Auction.

The Bloomingburg Corn Show and Farmers' Institute was brought to a successful close Thursday afternoon and night and leaves a record that both will find hard to excel.

Thursday night the Presbyterian church was packed, many standing, through a program that was the finest of the Institute. There were two able addresses by the state speakers, Mr. Horatio Markley treating of "The Ideal Home and Its Surroundings," and Mr. C. R. Wagner, of "The Power of Concentrated Thought and Action."

The music added much to the pleasure of the evening. The Institute quartet sang and Misses Stitt and Martha McCoy played a brilliant duet and responded to an encore.

Miss Helen McCoy gave a charming reading.

There was also a very large attendance at the afternoon session, when C. R. Wayne made a stirring address on "The Signs of the Times for the Farmer". The speaker judges that the signs of the times point to an even higher cost of living in the future than at present, and attributes much of the present discontent to the inclination to live beyond one's means and to ape those higher up. The boy or girl earning $6 or $10 a week are trying to live as well as those with treble their income and it can't be done.

Mr. M. L. Dickey followed with a spicy little address its droll humor received with laughter and applause. Mr. Dickey brought out strongly the lack of community loyalty, which injures the interests of the home town and presented several aspects of present day conditions which are greatly in need of remedying. Rev. Moore also made a short talk.

BIG TIME AT CORN SHOW AUCTION.

There certainly was something doing at the Corn Show when the corn, cakes and bread were auctioned off at four o'clock. The hall was jammed and people stayed until Colonel M. W. Eckle, the popular auctioneer, put down his hammer. Everything sold well and at times the crowd went wild.

Ed D. Straley's prize winning 10 ears of yellow professional, Class A, brought the high corn bid, $9.00, with Mathias Flax the winner of amateur sweepstakes a near second.

A number of prize winning exhibits were taken home by their owners and not put up. The greatest rivalry was over the cakes, first and second prize winners bringing as high as $2 and $3 a cake.

The progressive young farmers who promoted the Corn Show are entitled to feel very proud of their first attempt and the enthusiasm it evoked. The president, Mr. F. W. Cline, himself one of the most successful corn raisers in the county and an expert corn judge, had able assistance in the other officers, J. G. Couch, secretary, M. L. Dickey, executive committee, Wm. Huffman, Ray Willis, Ennis Stevens; Corn Show committee, Allen West, D. H. Wissler, O. A. Klever, C. G. Parrett, Dick Ramsey, Herman Morris, J. M. Klever, John Morter, Chas. Hester, J. M. Willis, H. W. Wilson, F. E. Eichelberger.

The judge, George Livingston, of the Ohio State university, was highly enthusiastic in praise of the show, surprised at the uniformly fine quality of so large a number of entries and making the statement that better corn was grown in this section of the state than any other.

The quality in the professional classes was so close that the judge found it difficult to make a decision. This was especially the case in Class A, professional yellow, when Ed Straley was given the award over H. W. Bussert's ten ears, which won in both state and national shows. The condition of Mr. Bussert's corn was not as good as earlier, the heat having dried the oil out of the grain.

F. E. Eichelberger won again on the same bunch on which he had taken national and state awards.

Special interest attached to the Feeders and Shelling class, two of the largest exhibits. Livingston's "Golden Surprise" invariably wins in the latter class.

The bushel classes were exceptionally good, as were the single ears shown.

Friends joked J. G. Couch about the 10 or 12 varieties of corn in one field and none mixed, but as long as they won the ribbons that genial exhibitor could afford to smile.

A large number from this city, as well as Mt. Sterling, Jeffersonville, South Solon and Good Hope attended the show Thursday.

Lorin Morter, son of Mr. John Morter was a young corn show prize winner whose name was not included in the published lists of awards.

Mr. Will Jefferson was clerk at the auction.

SCUTTLEERS.

"Here, Chafer! row in and ferry us across!"
"No! Everytime I take you fellows over you gnaw holes in my boat!"

Ominous Outlook.

"Well, anything new lately?" inquired the just-arrived washing-machine agent, as he hopped onto the porch of the Skeedee tavern.

"Well, no, not worth mentioning, I guess," replied the landlord. "Things is kinda slow, just now, and—but, ho! Come to think, three people were bit by a pet squirrel, last week, and considerable fear is expressed that they may go nutty."

The Nerve of Him!

"Well, did he pay you?" asked the wife of a dentist who had been to collect a bill for a full set of false teeth that he had made for a man almost a year before.

"Pay me!" growled the dentist. "Not only did he refuse to pay me, but he actually had the effrontery to gnash at me—with my teeth!"
